A CORRECTION

In our report of the Town Brass last week, we mentioned property designated for park use near Ball Avenue and referred to it as owned by Mr. & Mrs. P. Upright. This statement was incorrect, the property in question is the property of the Town of St. Albert. We regret our error.

CURLING RINK PLANS UNDER STUDY

Last Friday, a special meeting of the St. Albert Town Council was held to consider implementation of the by-law passed by the Board of Administrators concerning the Curling Rink. At that time, the town agreed to enter into an agreement for purchase of the rink, such agreement to be satisfactory to the Town. Since then, the Council requested that a complete audit be made of the books as the by-law called for clear title to the property. At Friday's meeting, the auditor's report was submitted, which agreed in substance with the previous financial statements audited for the Club a year ago. Some question arose in the meeting as to whether title included the ice-making machinery, which was subject to a separate purchase agreement between the Curling Club and the manufacturer. Solicitors for the Town and for the Club were instructed to prepare an agreement for sale to be ratified by Town and Club. Curling Club officials on being questioned, stated that they were not altogether satisfied with the action taken by the Council, as they felt that there had been far too long a delay in completing arrangements. They stressed that they felt Council had a moral obligation to comply with the commitment made by the Board of Administrators.

Plans of the Curling Club include a meeting of shareholders on September 18. They stress that the Club has a moral obligation to the three guarantors of the interim loan obtained from the Bank. The prime object of the Club, however, is to get the local curlers curling, and the rink in use by the opening of the season, regardless of the stage of the negotiations.

Reference to members of Council indicated a realization of the commitment made, but also of the necessity of having a properly drawn up legal transfer, which they felt could only be done by the solicitors.

GROUP OF THREE TO OPERATE RINK.

Last Tuesday evening the shareholders of the St. Albert Curling Club held an emergent meeting, in the course of which Messrs. W. Penrose, F. Laird and R. Harvey resigned from their positions on the Board of Directors. These three gentlemen are the guarantors who backed the short-term loan obtained from the Bank pending purchase of the rink by the Town. They resigned from the Executive so that they would not be placed in the unfortunate position of becoming their own creditors, by, in effect, holding a mortgage on the Club's facilities. They recommended to the incoming Executive that the Club should persevere in obtaining an agreement with the Town of St. Albert in accordance with last Friday's Council meeting. In the meantime, because of the possible delay in reaching this agreement, the three guarantors proposed that to protect their indebtedness to the Bank and to get the Curling Season going, they should act as a group of three to operate the rink and assume responsibility for its finances and try to get operating revenue coming in, the profits of which would be devoted entirely to reduction of the short-term loan from the Bank. At any time the Club may regain title to the premises without either profit or loss to the three. This arrangement was to remain valid for the period of five years. They hope and anticipate that agreement with the Town may be reached within a few weeks. In that case the title to the facilities would be placed back in the hands of the Curling Club to enable them to complete the agreement with the Town.

In effect, this proposal was to place complete authority in the hands of an individual management group. The time factor was of prime importance. Council were asked if this arrangement would be prejudicial to the agreement with the Town. Council's answer was that it was up to the Club.

After much animated discussion, some of it possibly more than animated when the term "robber barons" and the word "grabbed" were heard, the Shareholders agreed to the proposal. The new management group stress that they have only one purpose, as they have always had, to place the curling rink and the club on a good financial basis.

The three members of the group urge their fellow shareholders of the Club to get behind the Club's new Executive to work towards an agreement with the Town, which would end the present arrangement. In other words, a small company has been formed to quickly get the rink into operation, secure a manager and attend to the all-important ice rentals, still giving preference to the local Club and townspeople.

McNAMARA'S BAND

It was a great day for the Irish when they heard McNamara strike up the band. Something of the same nature could happen to the good town of St. Albert. St. Albert is the oldest community in Alberta and it cannot boast of having a good concert and marching band. We know that our town has a fair number of musicians, and a greater number of people who would really like to play in a band. Of course, a band of any sort can't be thrown together overnight. It takes a lot of money, loads of goodwill, tons of interest and stamina, and most of all perseverance, once something gets rolling.

Through early reports on the recreation survey now being conducted, it is quite apparent that there is a vital interest in a band. A good start has been made by the St. Albert Music Centre, which in due course should be able to provide musicians for the Town Band.

It is possible to form such a band in St. Albert, just as has been done very successfully in Fort Saskatchewan. If they can do it, why can't we? The fast growth of St. Albert brings with it a much greater potential than ever before in the field of music.

Instruments don't belong in attics or basements. They have to be seen and heard by a community proud of its accomplishment in forming a solid community band. Wouldn't it have been a thrill if we had been able to see our own band parading down the street on Civic Day.

Therefore, everybody playing an instrument, or interested in playing, please contact one of the undersigned committee members:

STORY OF "RECREATIONAL GRANTS" REVIEWED

Mr. Dick McGee, President of the St. Albert and District Chamber of Commerce was in the chair to welcome Mr. Keith Everett, M.L.A. to the September supper meeting of the Chamber. Mr. Everett reviewed Part 2 of the Alberta Government's five year plan program, designed to assist communities other than the two major cities and the National Parks, in acquiring recreational facilities that would make their communities more attractive places in which to live. Over three and one half million dollars was allocated for this purpose, to be distributed to hamlets, villages, towns and cities as a grant, based upon $10. per capita for all communities of 100 or more population. Population figures used were the 1959 figures, giving St. Albert, the population of which was then about 2,000, roughly $20,000. in grant money which must be claimed before December, 1963. This grant was to be approved for any feasible plan of recreational facilities, and projects planned jointly with adjoining communities would be given consideration.

Mr. Everett said he was vitally interested in sports and therefore took a great interest in the recreational program. He told his audience that $45,000 had been paid to date under the terms of these grants within the St. Albert constituency which he represents. He wish-

ENJOYABLE RECITAL

The second recital presented by the St. Albert Music Society, and the first of the fall season drew a larger audience than the previous, and was greatly enjoyed by all present. Featured was Mr. Frank Gay, Guitarist, who presented a work of Mozart, together with "Flamingoes" and "Spanish Dancers". He used both Spanish and Classical guitars, and those attending were greatly interested in a demonstration he gave of the construction of these. The Spanish guitar, made of extremely light wood, weighed only one pound. The classical guitar was shaped from Rosewood, giving a full classical tone. Both were purchased through the noted guitarist, Carlos Montayas.

A Clarinette Quartet, originally scheduled to perform, was unable to appear, due to the illness of one of its members. In its stead, the audience were treated to a performance of a Concerto for Clarinette "Concertino" by Carl Marie Weber, presented by Mr. Tjerk Weness, accompanied by Mr. Peter DeVlieger, which for the short period available for preparation, was a remarkably finished performance.

Following the recital, tea was served by members of the Society. In view of the public response to this second recital, it was decided to continue a monthly series, the next of which will take place on October 21st, when Mrs. Phillip Upright will present a classical piano program, to which all interested are invited. Memberships are available from Miss Marie Wolniewicz, secretary of the Music Society, or at the recitals. The thanks of the Society are extended to the Public School Board for its co-operation in the use of the Vital Grandin School, and to the St. Albert Gazette for its kind publicity.

MARCEL LAMBERT'S FAMILY PICNIC

Recently the constituency of Edmonton West, in which St. Albert is included, felt honored when its Member of Parliament, Mr. Marcel Lambert, was named Speaker of the House of Commons. This honorable and difficult position makes it necessary for Mr. Lambert to reside in Ottawa, and he and his family left by car on Monday morning for the East. In order to say goodbye and thank you to as many as possible of his committee workers and friends, Mr. Lambert was host at a "Family Picnic" held in Victoria Park on Sunday. It was a beautiful ed, he said, that smaller centers, even with a population of 50, could claim the grant. Laughing, he told of one place which, with a population of 92, imported a family of 12, so that it would be eligible for the grant.

He mentioned the government contribution of $7,000, which could be granted toward construction of a swimming pool, but warned that several centres which had built new pools had been obliged to close them because of costs and difficulty of operation. In discussion after his talk, one listener pointed out that a swimming pool project was almost certain to run into difficulties if regarded purely as recreation. This speaker said that it was necessary that swimming classes be an integral part of the physical education program of all schools in the area, to ensure that it served its maximum purpose. Mr. Everett reviewed the types of recreational facilities approved for grants. Following is the list.

whole concurred. It was decided to hold a Christmas "light up" campaign again this year, in which residents would be encouraged to decorate their properties with Christmas lighting effects, which would be judged and prizes awarded. Mr. Allan Blair was named chairman of the committee to look after this. Ruby Scheibelhover reported on the successful Civic Holiday and stated that already requests had been made for a similar holiday next year. He suggested that a way be found to charge admission to the grounds and exhibits in a future celebration of the kind. He paid tribute to all who had co-operated to make the civic holiday an outstanding success.

OUTLINE TO PART 2 OF THE PROPOSED 1960 FIVE-YEAR PROGRAM DESIGNED TO ASSIST COMMUNITIES IN ACQUIRING RECREATIONAL FACILITIES

Part 2 of the proposed 1960 five-year plan program, as announced by Premier Manning August 14th, 1958, was designed to assist communities, other than the two major cities and communities in National Parks, in acquiring recreational facilities that would serve to make their communities more attractive places in which to live. Details of this part of the 1960 program are now submitted to your Council for information and consideration.

They are as follows:

1. It is proposed that a total amount of $3,653,000.00 will be allocated to this portion of the program.
2. The money is to be distributed to hamlets, villages, towns and cities as a grant, based upon $10.00 per capita for all communities of 100 or more population.
3. Population figures will be the 1959 figures used by the Department of Municipal Affairs for grant purposes to cities, town and villages, and the latest census figures for hamlets.
4. Application will be made by the village, town or city council to the office of The Provincial Secretary. Hamlets in Local Improvement Districts must get approval of projects through the Department of Municipal Affairs. It is expected that Members of the Legislative Assembly will organize the communities for such a decision and presentation. Hamlets in Municipal Districts or Counties will send their recommendations through the Municipal or County Council to the Provincial Secretary. Here again the Member of the Legislative Assembly will be expected to bring the plan before the people for consideration.
5. This grant will be approved for any feasible plan of recreational facilities and can be applied to any project undertaken since January, 1960.

TENNIS NOTES

The Mackenzie Tennis Club held their first annual dance in the Club Mocombo on Friday, September 14th. This turned out to be a very successful evening for all concerned, especially the organizers who had a complete sell out of tickets. The highlight of the evening was the presentation of the Brower Shield. This is awarded to the winner of the Inter-Club Tournament, organized by the Edmonton and District Lawn Tennis Association. We were very gratified that Mr. R.L. Brower consented to come along and personally present the Shield to Mr. Fred Johnson, captain of the winning team, Royal Glenora. Next in winning order were Bonnie Doon, Garneau, St. Albert, Fort Saskatchewan, Kinsmen and Hillcrest. We were delighted to see the large contingents from each of the above clubs at the dance, also representatives from the Edmonton Lawn Tennis Association. We wish to extend thanks to Mr. Harry Armstrong, who made a most capable Master of Ceremonies, and to our band, the Shamrocks, for making a complete success of our 'First Annual'.

LANDING TRAIL CUB RALLY

The first District Rally of the Landing Trail District of the Scouts and Cubs was held in Mission Park, St. Albert on Sunday. Cubmaster for the day was Mr. Albert Genereux of St. Albert, on whose shoulders fell the burden of arranging for the day-long gathering of 180 Cubs and their leaders. Attending were boys from Westlock, Morinville, St. Albert, Spruce Grove and Winterburn. A series of sports events was held with points for each awarded to the competing packs. At the early-evening campfire, the Leo Nickerson Memorial Trophy was presented by Mrs. Nickerson to the winning pack, in this case appropriately, it was the Second St. Albert, which was Leo's own pack. Events of the day included obstacle courses, various sports, a tug-of-war between the group committee members, scouts and other adults and the boys, (which ended in a draw when the rope broke!), a picnic supper and a campfire.

wheel chairs and one in a respirator. They came from as far away as Fahler, and in spite of their disabilities, they all took part in the full program of the retreat. To care for their special needs, seven nurses and four orderlies were in attendance on twenty-four hour duty. These were not people who were slightly handicapped, some of them were nearly helpless, and without the devoted care of these and five lay helpers, they could not have participated. Special hospital supplies and wheel chairs were borrowed from the University Hospital and the Youville Home, for the retreat period. Transportation was provided by volunteer drivers from the Legion of Mary, the Knights of Columbus, the Sacred Heart Holy Name Society, the St. Alphonsus Men's Club, St. Anthony's Men's Club and six individual drivers. The originator of these retreats, and the organizer in charge of making all these arrangements was Miss Pelicita Germin, of Edmonton. When she first acted as retreat captain three years ago she found many spiritually alone and isolated in their suffering. Following that first retreat, she was instrumental in forming a group known as the Three-H Apostolate of St. Therese. The Three-Hs stand for "Happily, Helpful, Handicapped" Members of that group to-day formed the nucleus of the much larger retreat held this year. Through the medium of the group and the retreat, these people, ranging in age from a boy of 14, to a lady of 81, find dignity in their lives and through the power of prayer, the ability to help others. All who have worked with the retreat feel the same sense of uplift, as they see the joy with which these, some of them so terribly handicapped, participate in all the spiritual and fellowship activities of the retreat.

U.C.W. RESUMES MEETINGS

The first meeting of the St. Albert United Church U.C.W. for the fall season saw plans for a number of projects discussed. The kitchen has been newly tiled and the ladies are arranging to have some additional cabinet work and other finishing completed, after which they will undertake the painting themselves. They will cater to a dinner meeting of the Masonic Lodge on September 20th in the Lower Hall of the Church, and will hold their annual Thanksgiving Turkey Supper on October 20th. The committee named for this latter event consists of the Unit leaders of the Grandin Park, Sturgeon Heights, Brasside and Mission Park Units. The U.C.W. also caters to meetings of the St. Albert Lions Club twice a month. A U.C.W. life member's pin will be sent to Mrs. H. Usher, first president of the St. Albert United Church W.A., who is at present visiting her daughter in Massachusetts.

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

Dear Sir:

As chairman of the Family Recreation Interest Survey just being completed in St. Albert and district, may I, through your 'letters to the Editor' columns, say thank you to the St. Albert Gazette for the cooperation you gave to the Committee by way of publicity and editorial comment before and during the survey.

Again as chairman, I would like to pass on the Committee's heartfelt thanks to the many volunteer canvassers who collected the information now being assessed. Some 32 group captains and over 100 volunteers were organized, instructed, and sent out to do a job that might have taxed Dr. Gallup's Poll. Their results are now being collated and tabulated to provide Town Council with a clear statistical picture of the present recreational activities and expressed interests of our townspeople and neighbors in the district. The survey forms are coded and filed in such a way as to make them immediately available to interested parties and to provide them with names, sex, age-group and address of leaders or participants in any field of recreation covered in the survey. It is the hope of the Committee that the information will be kept up-to-date in future by the completion of these forms by newly arriving families.

The Committee received the support of civic officials and the general public and it is grateful for the interest shown.

The Committee brief to Town Council will contain recommendations, based on the results of the survey, for Council consideration. The Committee will dissolve after presentation of this brief, its terms of reference having been completed.

Yours truly,
Wm. A. Penrose.

COMMUNITY LEAGUE TO COMPLETE RENOVATION OF HALL

At the annual meeting of the St. Albert Community League last Monday, it was unanimously decided to borrow $2,500. from the Bank to complete the improvements to the Hall so that full use can be made of this fine building for all recreational and organizational purposes.

+++++ REMINDERS AND SUGGESTIONS +++++

ST. ALBERT ORIOLES

This children's choir for boys and girls from grades 3 to 8, met with wonderful response last year. They gave a Christmas concert second to none; they appeared on TV; they made recordings. This year they are scheduled to appear for the St. Albert Music Society and in the Annual Christmas Concert. They have room for more members and Mrs. Kennedy, their director, would like old members and prospective singers to report to her at 1:00 p.m. next Sunday, in the Community Hall.

N.B. Parents, this is a wonderful opportunity for your children. Do help them to take advantage of it.

"HERCULES"

The St. Albert Junior Soccer Team bears this name. More than twenty boys between the ages of 8 and 14 meet for practice at 9:00 a.m. each Saturday at the Vital Grandin School Grounds. When the weather gets too cold for this, arrangements will be made for indoor practices. The team has already played some games against Edmonton Junior Soccer teams and plans to enter next spring's tournaments. They have invited the Gold Bar Junior Soccer team, who expect to play them in St. Albert in a week or so. Watch for further announcement as to date and time. Every boy who would like to take part in this exciting sport should phone the coach, W.J. Netelenbos, at 599-7187.

one of these sports for the whole family. It is the only sport which gives not only physical education and recreation, but is a major safety measure. Whatever else you list in your preferences, be sure to include it.

OVERLAPPING

Club activities have a bad habit of overlapping unless there is a consistent effort on the part of all secretaries or organizations to ascertain each other's plans. This is particularly necessary until such time as we have a Recreational Director who would normally assist in this regard.

SENIOR SPORTS MEETING

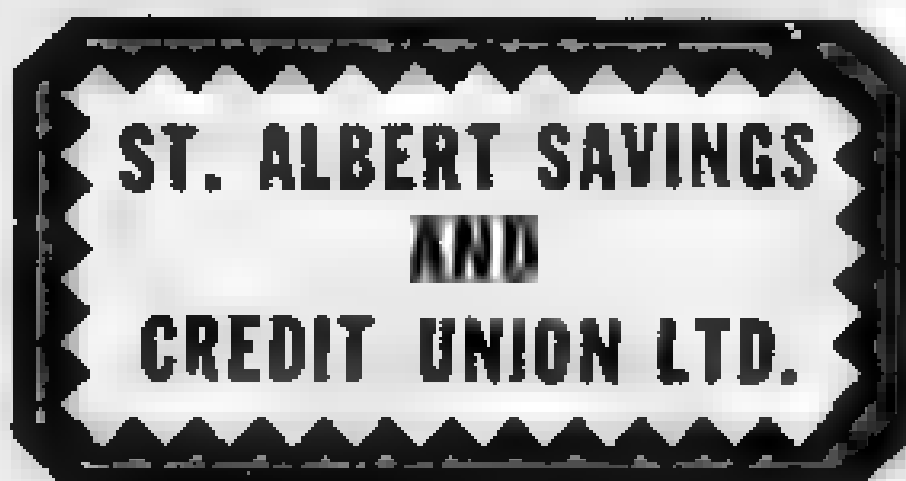

A general meeting for St. Albert Senior Sports is to be held on Tuesday, September 25th, at 9:00 p.m. in the Community Hall. All former and prospective members of senior sports, hockey and baseball, and other interested, are urged to attend. The object of the meeting is to set up a Board of Directors for this season's senior sports activities.

BOYS TO REGISTER FOR HOCKEY

Registration of boys in the 8 - 16 age group for this year's Minor Hockey will place on September 25th at 6:00 p.m., at the St. Albert Community Hall. Registration sheets have been supplied to each school. Boys should secure these, complete them, including parent's signature and bring to the registration meeting. Further information may be obtained from Mr. Jim Roberts, at 599-6046.

GAMES NOT THE THING.

OTHER WAYS FOR AUTOIST TO KEEP CHILD
HAPPY - by Helen F. Travers.

I sometimes wonder, when I read some of the suggestions for family games to be played while travelling, if I, as a novice motorist, ever would set out on an automobile trip with my children. I do not mean to ridicule this sort of entertainment, or undermine the happy intentions of many mobile parents. It is simply not my cup of tea.

In the middle of another vacation season, it seems timely to point out that youngsters can travel very happily without a carefully planned program of in-the-car entertainment. One, for example does not have to approach the family chariot as a mistress or master of ceremonies, groomed to steer the happy little band into round after round of such highway quiz games as "How many Massachusetts license plates can you count in the New York-bound lane?" and "How many new-car carriers have you seen on our side?"

As a parent who spends many summer hours travelling back and forth between home base in New Jersey and a country place in Connecticut, I know that children can adapt quite easily to automobile travel.

What do we do in our family, if we do not play games? We do other things. For one, we try to point out the highlights of the scenery; cows in a meadow, a flock of birds overhead, or a vast, bustling industrial complex off to the right.

Car travel can give us a wonderful opportunity to develop our children's vision. We can help them sustain that wonder-of-discovery attitude with which they are endowed by nature. Gliding their eyes to license plates, or concentrating their attention on Detroit's latest models streaking down the road ahead may be all right for some people. But I feel sorry for what they are missing!

I like to think of each trip as a new adventure. Familiar though the road-rules may be, there is so much to see in the world around us. We seem to forget the wonder that lies beyond the accustomed lane to the right. For often, we are privileged to a scene of beauty beyond our wildest dreams, just off the road, station or the left.

Thus, it now we approach our travel, let us try to help the children open their eyes to the world around them. Let us stop frequently so the children can absorb their joys and surprise, as they take a detour of the landscape through which they are travelling.

Let us stop whenever opportunities for a glimpse, something just a few steps away to make the children want they are seeing.

(4) We read stories, or sing, when we are in the mood.

Most of the time we leave the children to their own devices, and give them time to dream.

But there is also time en route to help the children see many things—the grace in the curving arc of highway climbing over sprawling industrial areas; the panoramic quality, not unlike vistas from airplanes, along many of our turnpikes; the kind of stark beauty in the giant cement columns rising out of the congested traffic spots in our cities, as foundations are laid for new expressways.

One of my favorite stretches of highway is the New Jersey Turnpike in that section of the Meadows where it winds over and through some of the heaviest industrial sections in the East. For like this part of the road, don't we "move" as 7-year old Tom wanted and say, recalling things said earlier, "It's real, real here, isn't it?"

Children can be shown that factories and industrial plants are as much a sight to behold as a scene of nature.

in early spring. My 5-year-old surveyed a factory one day, as we passed by, and said: "You know why it needs that many smoke-stacks? Because it's a heavy building and a busy building. That's why."

Industrial areas can be either dirty and smelly, or exciting and pulsating with life. How children will look at the world around them later may well depend on what they see from the car today.

As one travels, it is possible to help the youngsters grasp a view broader than the lanes on either side. This is like being in an airplane, isn't it Daddy? Our 7-year-old said on passing over a familiar stretch of through-way. He remembered what we had said when we had traveled the route before.

"Look, the moon is coming with us!" was one of the cherished comments of our youngest, when he was about 3. He said this on a clear October evening when, driving up the turnpike, we watched the dusk settle over New England's autumn countryside.

Little inlets from Long Island Sound were clear and still, like great mirrors on the land. We savored every moment of that ride, between the time the sun had set and the giant harvest moon had climbed up out of the East. Obviously, the 3-year-old delighted in the ride in his own way.

Keep your child happy during trip.

As paraphernalia-laden travellers and game-minded parents, many of us these days seem to forget what a time of discovery a trip can be for a child. I will always remember when we were driving up the Taconic Parkway and my older boy looked off to the west, wondering what "those big dark spots" on the hills, were.

He was astonished when told that they were shadows cast by the clouds high overhead. Those great, fast-moving dark masses on the hillside were a new experience to a boy previously familiar only with his own shadow and the shadow of things within his reach.

Children can be helped to be aware of the drama of road-building projects. It is nearly impossible to travel anywhere these days without running into giant road-building machines. The bright colored yellow, orange or red vehicles, with their massive wheels, capture the imaginations of children. After one trip my 5-year-old called to me at play:

"Here comes a pushing machine; it can push things all the way around the world!"

Of course, after a certain amount of time, the scenery, no matter how lovely or fascinating, can pall. Children get restless and, when this begins to happen, it is a good time to stop. Fairly frequent stops give the children a chance to see, close up, some of the country through which they are passing.

Also, such rest breaks give youngsters a little time to do things they love to do: pick up an intriguing stone in the palm and store in the pocket; gather a bouquet of wild flowers (like the handful of dandelion blooms my 5-year-old presented to me on one trip this spring) or collect a bunch of bright-colored "specimens" from a swirl of autumn leaves across a parking lot; give the children time to scuff their feet in a pile of pumkins or swing around a "no parking" sign.

Not long ago, we found a rest area with a running brook along a highway in Massachusetts. The boys were out of the car in a flash to descend on the clear water and explore its mysterious treasures.

There was the time when we lost the oil filter on the Connecticut Turnpike. We pulled off the road and halted a state trooper, who used his radio to summon help. While father and the police officer chatted, awaiting the arrival of a tow truck, the children and I had a chance to explore a meadow near by lush with summer growth and dotted with daisies.

If, in travelling, one can manage a fairly ride along the way that can be a memorable break in a trip. Let the children get out of the car, go in front, if they can, and feel the breeze and wind in their faces.

Travel with children need not be the big production some people make it out to be. Children are ingenious and they are remarkably adaptable. Help them to see the world anew on each trip, and tons of love will not be needed in the car to amuse them. Nor will you have to keep up a running game.
